We introduced the world's first crypto index ETF, enabling many investors to allocate to crypto for the first time. We believe open blockchains are unlocking global growth and making economic opportunity more abundant and accessible. We are committed to accelerating the development of the crypto ecosystem by empowering everyone to participate in this transformational opportunity for the world.

Advantages of a Dynamic Index Fund¹

The Hashdex Nasdaq Crypto Index ETF (the "Fund") is a passively managed fund designed to give sophisticated investors broad exposure to the digital asset market by tracking the Nasdaq Crypto Index (NCI). In tracking an index that is designed to capture a significant part of the digital asset market over time by automatically adjusting the number and weighting of included digital assets as the market evolves, the Fund seeks to offer highly diverse exposure to a market that is rapidly changing. Since the NCI utilizes robust standards for digital asset eligibility, including custody considerations, it is designed to be tracked effectively by institutional investment products.

¹ As determined in accordance with the index rules.

Index Methodology⁴

Digital Asset Eligibility	The NCI utilizes robust criteria intended to ensure that only reputable digital assets are included in the index. The criteria filters eligible digital assets on the basis of 1. Exchange Availability, 2. Institutional Custody Provider Availability, 3. Trading Volume and Metrics, and 4. Free-floating Pricing. These criteria are designed to allow the index to contain only assets in which institutional investors could potentially invest in, while enabling it to dynamically represent the market and be easily tracked by investment funds and other vehicles.
Digital Asset Selection	The NCI utilizes a dynamic asset selection process whereby eligible digital assets which meet a minimum representative threshold of 0.5% of total market capitalization are added to the index. Conversely, constituents that fall below 0.25% of total market capitalization are removed from the index.
Weighting	The constituent assets in the NCI are weighted according to their relative USD free float market capitalizations.
Rebalancing	The NCI is rebalanced quarterly, on the first business day of the month in March, June, September and December.
